Re: Docket No. PCN 5 – In the Matter of Idaho Power Company’s Petition for Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity.

Dear Judge Mellgren:

Mr. Greg Larkin identified the need for a confidential session for cross-examination of Dr. Jeffrey Ellenbogen, which Idaho Power Company (“Idaho Power”) expects may address confidential medical records. While there is not a separate protective order in place governing the treatment of this information, Your Honor has determined that review of the medical records would be limited to Idaho Power, Idaho Power’s consultant, Mr. Larkin and his representative(s), the Commissioners, the Administrative Law Judges working on this matter, and Administrative Hearings Division support staff.¹ Idaho Power has identified a more limited subset of individuals that may participate in a confidential session addressing such medical information as detailed in the table below. Additionally, though no party has at this time identified the need for a general confidential session (addressing information subject to the General Protective Order), Idaho Power has identified a broader group of individuals who may participate in general confidential cross-examination sessions, as detailed in the table below, in the event the need for a confidential session arises:
