HUTCH L. HENRIE Consultant

Mr. Henrie joined Energy Strategies in April 2001. His primary work efforts include assisting senior staff with regulatory analysis, assisting with the identification of beneficial market opportunities for clients in their natural gas and power procurement needs, assisting with technical and financial assessments of various energy issues and the development/review of computer models used to evaluate electric and natural gas matters on behalf of Energy Strategies' clients. He maintains client databases within the company to ensure up-to-date and accurate information and he performs research for senior staff on energy and natural gas issues to be used in economic analysis.

Mr. Henrie is a staff member of the Industrial Gas Resource Corporation (IGRC), one of the first natural gas cooperatives in the country. In this capacity, Mr. Henrie has gained experience in commodity procurement, nominations and balancing, price hedging, bypass analysis and regional pipeline market dynamics. He has assisted the cooperative in gas procurement efforts that have consistently resulted in savings over benchmark utility rates. He assists in the management of Utah Association of Energy Users (UAE). In this capacity, Mr. Henrie assists with monthly meetings, and distributes the weekly energy bulletin to the various members of UAE. He also performs various analytical projects as assigned.

Mr. Henrie has assisted in the quantitative and regulatory research that has been incorporated into expert witness testimony in several rate case proceedings in Nevada, Michigan, South Carolina, Wyoming, and Utah, including work in the areas of direct access, rate design and power cost analysis. Mr. Henrie plays an active role in the company's marketing efforts and assists in managing client communications.

NEAL TOWNSEND

Senior Consultant

Mr. Townsend joined Energy Strategies in 2001. Mr. Townsend supports the company's consulting efforts on both regulatory matters and client strategic market assessments. In this capacity, he provides technical assessments of various energy issues, and develops and reviews computer models used to evaluate electric and natural gas matters on behalf of Energy Strategies' clients.

Among the various projects on which he has participated, Mr. Townsend has investigated inter-state cost allocation across multiple jurisdictional entities served by a single electric utility, cost allocation across various customer classes of electric and natural gas utilities, modeling used to estimate and simulate an electric utility's variable power costs, development of avoided and marginal cost studies, and electric utility resource planning. Mr. Townsend's research and analyses has supported the firm's business activities in Arizona, Idaho, Michigan, Nevada, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

Prior to joining Energy Strategies, Mr. Townsend was a Utility Rate Analyst with the State of Utah, Division of Public Utilities from 1997 to 2001. In this position, he performed numerous analyses and investigations of electricity and natural gas issues requiring regulatory oversight. Mr. Townsend was responsible for operation of various computer models used by the Division of Public Utilities in the course of its investigations. He also provided written and oral testimony before the Public Service Commission of Utah.

Mr. Townsend also worked for a consulting petroleum engineering firm that provided economic and technical assessments of producing oil and gas wells and drilling prospects. In addition, Mr. Townsend was employed by a major aerospace manufacturing firm supporting corporate marketing efforts and providing engineering expertise for the solid-fuel rockets used on NASA's Space Shuttle Program.
