2. Date of Planned Service Discontinuance (47 C.F.R. §§ 63.71(a)(2), (b)(2)):

Subject to the Commission's authorization, on or after August 9, 2016,³ Verizon will discontinue Person-to-Person, 3rd Number Billing, Collect Call, and Inmate Collect operator services.

3. Points of Geographic Areas of Service Affected (47 C.F.R. §§ 63.71(a)(3), (b)(2)):

Subject to the Commission's authorization, Verizon will discontinue Person-to-Person, 3rd Number Billing, Collect Call, and Inmate Calling operator services throughout the United States, U.S. territories, and internationally.

4. Brief Description of Type of Service Affected (47 C.F.R. §§ 63.71(a)(4), (b)(2)):

The services at issue here are all outdated legacy services that have largely fallen out of use:

³ Verizon had originally planned to discontinue these services on or after July 9, 2016. Due to the intervening work stoppage, we are extending that date until on or after August 9, 2016.

Collect Calling is a billing arrangement by which the charge for an operator assistance call may be reversed (charged to the called station) provided the charge is accepted at the called station.

Person-to-Person Calling is a service where the person originating an operator assistance call specifies to the Company operator a particular person to be reached, a particular mobile service point to be reached through a Mobile Telephone Service attendant, or a particular PBX service point, department, or office to be reached.

Billed to Third Party is a billing arrangement by which an operator assistance call may be charged to an authorized station as determined by the Company other than the station originating the call or the station where the call is terminated.

Inmate Collect Calling is an obsolete service that permitted collect calls only from a Verizon inmate dial tone line. Today, this service is not in use by any customers. Verizon no longer provides inmate phones at any correctional facility and there are no external customers that currently use Verizon inmate dial tone lines. Other providers that currently service correctional facilities offer options for collect or third party billed calling.

The public convenience and necessity will not be impaired by the proposed service discontinuance because these services have fallen out of favor and consumers today are largely using replacements rather than these services. For collect calling, person-to-person, and bill to third party, the need to “bill” a call to an alternative source has been essentially eliminated by the advent of alternatives such as unlimited voice calls on mobile technology, bundled toll and long distance telephone calling plans, and VoIP calling. Customers today already overwhelmingly make voice calls or communicate using alternative services and products from Verizon or other providers that perform the same functions as these services. Further, once these services are discontinued, Verizon customers will still be able to reach operators by dialing 0. Operators will be able to assist customers by dialing a call for them, to provide support for emergency calls or 911, or to provide support to customers with disabilities that may prevent them from making or completing calls on their own.

Verizon is discontinuing these services because of low market demand. The total number of person-to-person, third party billed, and collect calls today are less than one percent of the total number of operator services calls. For example, in a test earlier this spring, collect calls made up just 0.34% of the overall operator services calls. During that same time period, person-to-person billed calls were just 0.02% and calls billed to third party were just 0.009% of the total operator services calls.⁴

There are multiple alternative services available. Verizon and others continue to offer various domestic and international calling plans that will not be affected by this change. Mobile technology, coupled with plans that permit unlimited long distance and toll calls, eliminate the need for collect calls or third party billed calls in most cases. Customers who do not have mobile access can use widely available dial-around services such as 1-800-collect, or 10-10X numbers to arrange for third party billing. Customers also regularly use other means to communicate such as instant messaging services or smart phone applications that permit messaging for free. Other alternatives include prepaid cellphone service and VoIP services. Customers may also use social media, or video and audio chat services such as Skype, Facebook, or Google Hangouts.

⁴ As noted in note 2, infra, Verizon currently has no inmate telephone lines and thus there were zero inmate collect calls over this time period.

5. Brief Description of the Dates and Methods of Notice to All Affected Customers (47 C.F.R. § 63.71(b)(3)):

Verizon provided notices to its retail customers by bill message starting in the April 2016 bill cycle. That message is running for three months, through the June 2016 bill cycle. Verizon also provided notice to wholesale customers by letter and posting on our website on June 7, 2016. Copies of these notices are attached as Exhibit A.

Additionally, starting January 15, 2016, a Verizon operator provided an oral notification to each customer who called in to use these services, explaining that the services would no longer be available on or after July 9, 2016.

Verizon also provided an additional preliminary notice to its wholesale customers on October 9, 2015. This notice was intended to give wholesale customers additional time to plan for the eventual discontinuance of this service.

Verizon is sending copies of this Application by first class U.S. Mail to the governor and public utilities commission for each affected state and territory, as well as to the Department of Defense, as required by Section 63.71(a) of the Commission's rules. A copy of this Application is also being sent to the Chief of the Commission's International Bureau.

6. Regulatory Classification of Carrier (47 C.F.R. § 63.71(b)(4)):

Verizon is considered non-dominant with respect to the services to be discontinued.

CONCLUSION

Verizon respectfully requests that the Commission approve this Application.

William H. Johnson
Of Counsel

Respectfully submitted, available in telephone books. Available TRS methods are explained below.

To call a TTY user, dial TRS at 711. A Communications Assistant (CA) will place your call and type your spoken words for the TTY user. The CA will read to you the messages the TTY user sends you. Calls are private, confidential and uncensored. While there is no charge to TRS users for TTY, regular phone charges do apply.

Speech-to-Speech Service (STS) is another form of TRS available by calling 711. The CA can assume an active or passive role in repeating the conversation and follows the same guidelines as with TTY calls.

IP Relay Service is a form of TRS which relays calls from a WCD. A CA follows the TTY call guidelines. To use IP Relay:

- * connect a WCD to an Internet Service Provider
- * type in your TRS IP Internet address
- * enter your 10 digit presubscribed number
- * select your preferred relay operator's icon

Video Relay Service (VRS) relays calls for those using sign language. VRS information is available at fcc.gov/consumers/guides/video-relay-services. Some TRS providers offer Captioned Telephone Service (CTS) which is accessed with a captioned telephone and available for persons with some residual hearing.

Important

Important Information Regarding Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS)

TRS provides an operator to telephone users who use text telephones (TTY) or web capable devices (WCD) because they are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech disabled. From payphones, TRS local calls are free; toll calls must be billed to calling cards, prepaid cards (PPC), collect or third party billing. PPC information is available online at fcc.gov/consumers/guides/prepaid-phone-cards-what-consumers-should-know.

TRS is provided 24 hours a day, 365 days per year with no time limits. For further information call your state TRS Provider, visit the FCC's TRS web site at fcc.gov/general/telecommunications-relay-services-trs, or read the explanation available in telephone books. Available TRS methods are explained below.

To call a TTY user, dial TRS at 711. A Communications Assistant (CA) will place your call and type your spoken words for the TTY user. The CA will read to you the messages the TTY user sends you. Calls are private, confidential and uncensored. While there is no charge to TRS users for TTY, regular phone charges do apply.

Speech-to-Speech Service (STS) is another form of TRS available by calling 711. The CA can assume an active or passive role in repeating the conversation and follows the same guidelines as with TTY calls.

IP Relay Service is a form of TRS which relays calls from a WCD. A CA follows the TTY call guidelines. To use IP Relay:

- connect a WCD to an Internet Service Provider
- type in your TRS IP Internet address
- enter your 10 digit pre-subscribed number
- select your preferred relay operator's icon

Video Relay Service (VRS) relays calls for those using sign language. VRS information is available at fcc.gov/consumers/guides/video-relay-services. Some TRS providers offer Captioned Telephone Service (CTS) which is accessed with a captioned telephone and available for persons with some residual hearing.
