BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

OF OREGON

AR 679

In the Matter of Rulemaking to Revise OAR 860-002-0000 Regarding Alternative Dispute Resolution	MEMORANDUM

Docket AR 629 rulemaking participants and other interested persons:

Thank you to those who attended the informal workshop and submitted comments on whether the rules governing alternative dispute resolution (ADR) in OAR Chapter 860 Division 002 should be amended. Based on those comments I have made various changes in response to concerns and suggestions. I have attached a copy of those changes for your review and invite you to file any further comments by 3:00 p.m. on March 18, 2029.

I have added comments in the document to explain the changes to the earlier version but will summarize them here for your convenience.

ADR vs Mediation

In response to comments made at the workshop, I have revised the rules to provide that the ADR rules in Division 002 apply to any dispute or complaint filed under ORS 756.500 and added separate meditation provisions to the various rules governing consumer complaints. Hopefully keeping these processes separate will help eliminate confusion.

I also added references to other rules governing negotiated power purchase agreements and interconnection disputes to make sure timelines and other requirements in those provisions are followed when requesting ADR.

I also clarified that the ADR rules are intended to provide fair, timely, and confidential settlement of issues.

Consolidated ADR Provisions

For simplicity, I have combined all the ADR processes and timelines into one division. Division 0030 now contains the various rule provisions previously spread out through Divisions 0030 through 0090.

Independent Assessment

I modified provisions previously found in Division 0090 to make clear that the ADR facilitator has the discretion whether to provide a confidential and independent assessment at the request of a party. This is done to recognize that a facilitator may not feel comfortable providing an opinion for a variety of reasons, including the uncertainty of the potential outcome and complexity of the issues involved.

Mediation

Commission rules governing consumer complaints are found in four divisions divided by utility type: Division 021—Energy and Large Telecommunication Utilities, Division 034—Small Telecommunications Utilities, Division 026—Water Utilities, and Division 037—Wastewater Utilities.

I added similar language to all four sections giving the complainant the opportunity to request mediation when filing a formal complaint. I also added language found in the other rules but missing in Division 0036 allowing complainant to seek restoration or continuation of service pending resolution of complaint.

Comments

Again, please submit any written comments to PUC.FilingCenter@puc.oregon.gov by 3:00 p.m. on March 18, 2026. Your comments will help develop the proposed rules the Commission will consider when undertaking formal rulemaking.

Dated March 4, 2026.

Administrative Law Judge
