RE:  Oregon Advice No. 16-09
     Revisions to Rule F – Service Connection and Discontinuance
     Revisions to Schedule 66 – Miscellaneous Charges

Attention Filing Center:

Per OAR 860-021-0330, Idaho Power Company (“Idaho Power” or “Company”) hereby transmits for filing revisions to Rule F, Service Connection and Discontinuance and to Schedule 66, Miscellaneous Charges. The Company proposes to add a service connection charge for customers where the Company utilizes a remote connect/disconnect meter to connect or reconnect service and clarify the difference between the Remote Service Connection Charge and the Service Connection Charge.

Background

Idaho Power has installed 811 meters to date in its Oregon service area with automated electric service connect/disconnect functionality. The remote connect/disconnect meters were installed at service points that are remote, difficult to access, or had multiple connect/disconnect site visits. Although these meters have been installed, Idaho Power has not utilized the remote disconnect functionality to date because it is not currently able to meet the requirements of OAR 860-021-0405(9)(B) without making system changes. However, Idaho Power will soon begin to make use of the remote connect functionality of these meters (but not the remote disconnect functionality).

Establishing a charge for Remote Service Connection

The Company is seeking authorization from the Public Utility Commission of Oregon to establish a service connection charge for customers where the Company utilizes a remote connect/disconnect meter to connect or reconnect service. Idaho Power proposes a charge of $13 for all hours of the day and all days of the week for remote connections. The charge for remote connections represents only the costs of back office operations necessary to reconnect and reestablish service, but does not include any field visit costs. By utilizing the remote connect functionality of the meter, Idaho Power will reduce operating costs associated with reconnect visits and thus reduce upward pressure on rates for all customers.

Proposed Changes to Tariffs

Idaho Power seeks to modify Rule F to clarify when the Remote Service Connection Charge is used as compared to the Service Connection Charge. A modification to Rule F is also proposed to provide examples of what customer actions may trigger a Field Visit Charge.

Idaho Power requests to modify Schedule 66 to add a new charge for Remote Service Connection. In addition, Idaho Power is proposing to include a definition of Company-recognized holidays because the Service Connection Charge is higher during Company-recognized holidays and weekends. Having a definition of Company-recognized holidays within the tariff schedule provides greater transparency of applicable charges to customers.

The Company respectfully requests that the attached Schedule 66 and Rule F become effective June 8, 2016. If you have any questions regarding this tariff advice filing, please contact Regulatory Analyst Kristy Patteson at (208) 388-2982 or kpatteson@idahopower.com.

Very truly yours,
